The Fifth Gospel

The Gospel of Thomas and the Wisdom of Jesus

Milton C. Moreland & Stephen J. Patterson

In 1945 a new gospel was discovered that would alter the way scholars look at gospels, the origins of Christianity, even Jesus himself. This new gospel, the Gospel of Thomas, has—and continues—to challenge just about everything we have assumed to be true in the story of how Christianity began.

Milton C. Moreland (Ph.D., Claremont Graduate University) is Associate Professor of Religious Studies and Director of the Program in Archaeology at Rhodes College in Memphis, Tennessee. He is the editor of Between Text and Artifact: Integrating Archaeology into Biblical Studies Teaching (2003). His other publications include two edited books on the sayings of Jesus.

Stephen J. Patterson is Professor of New Testament at Eden Theological Seminary in St. Louis and chair of the Jesus Seminar on Christian Origins. In Fall 2010 he will become the Atkinson Professor of Religious and Ethical Studies at Willamette University in Salem, Oregon. His latest book is Beyond the Passion: Rethinking the Death and Life of Jesus (Fortress, 2004).
