

All: Deliver us from narrow affections and partisan considerations. Let our hopes be inclusive rather than exclusive, and let our spirit be to share rather than to hoard.

One: Restrain the reckless among us and curb the violence in us all, that we may defend the weak, pursue justice without partiality, and conduct ourselves with forbearance.

All: That which is evil in us, let it die; That which is good in us, let it grow until there is brotherhood and sisterhood from sea to shining sea and we become in truth as in hope, America the Beautiful.

Hymn

Come, O Thankful People, Come

Congregation

by H. Alford

Come, O thankful people, come; Raise the song of harvest home.
All is safely gathered in as the winter storms begin.
God, our maker, does provide For our wants to be supplied.
Come to God's own temple, come, Raise the song of harvest home.

All the blessings of the field, All the stores the gardens yield,
All the fruits in full supply, Ripened 'neath the summer sky,
All that spring with bounteous hand Scatters o'er the smiling land,
All that liberal autumn pours From its rich o'erflowing stores.

These to you, our God, we owe, Source from whom all blessings flow;
And for these our songs we raise, Grateful vows and solemn praise.
Come, then, thankful people, come, Raise the song of harvest home.
Come to God's own temple, come, Raise the song of harvest home.

A Fresh Word

Blessing

A Thanksgiving Blessing

Rabbi Arnold Rachlis

by N. King

Let us join our hands and hearts in gratitude on this wondrous day, where we have the abundance of our lives before us. We remember on this day of bounty all of those who do not have enough, who are afraid, who are lonely, and who suffer. We wish for the abundance of this world to be shared, for fear to become love, for the lonely to feel welcomed, and for the suffering to know rest and joy. For the labors, the love, the care that gave us the delights of this and every day, we say "Thanks!" For the nourishment of our spirit, the challenges that strengthen us, and the friends we have on the journey, we sing "Thanks!" For all that is our lives, for these good gifts, we whisper "Thanks!" Overflowing with gratitude, let us shout "Thanks!" Amen.

One: With grateful hearts, we now turn to the One whose generosity is without limits. Our response together is:

All: We give thanks.

One: For our religious leaders, may they be blessed and strengthened in their daily labors, as they strive to encourage us.

All: We give thanks.

One: For people of all faith traditions, may we experience more opportunities for prayer, theological dialogue, and work for the betterment of humanity.

All: We give thanks.

One: For our national and international leaders, may they work together to promote the common good, that the world may finally see an end to all violence, prejudice, and poverty.

All: We give thanks.

One: For those who suffer because of natural disasters, may they be blessed with hope and courage as they seek to rebuild their lives so that we become more aware of our responsibility to help meet their many needs.

All: We give thanks.

One: For those who find themselves in times of war and violence; for all refugees and displaced persons and for all who wish us ill, that concord and peace may be known in the lives of all.

All: We give thanks.

One: For all who serve in our nation's Armed Forces at home or abroad, for those who are currently in harm's way.

All: We give thanks.

One: For all here gathered, may we give thanks at all times for the gifts generously bestowed upon us and may we properly use our God-given gifts for the common good.

All: We give thanks.

One: For our relatives and friends who walk with us on life's journey and for those who have gone before us to the other side of life - for the fulfillment of all their unfulfilled desires.

All: We give thanks.

Closing Song

How Beautiful, Our Spacious Skies

Congregation

by K. L. Bates, M. T. Winter

How beautiful, our spacious skies, our amber waves of grain;
Our purple mountains as they rise above the fruitful plain.
America! America! God's gracious gifts abound,
And more and more we're grateful for life's bounty all around.

Indigenous and immigrant, our daughters and our sons:
O may we never rest content till all are truly one.
America! America! God grant that we may be
A sisterhood and brotherhood from sea to shining sea.

How beautiful, sincere lament, the wisdom borne of tears,
The courage called for to repent the bloodshed through the years.
America! America! God grant that we may be
A nation blessed with none oppressed, true land of liberty.

How beautiful, two continents, and islands in the sea
That dream of peace, non-violence, all people living free.
Americas! Americas! God grant that we may be
A hemisphere where people here all live in harmony.
